WEATHER KEY POINTS

09/20/19 - 09/26/19

Friday-Sunday

- Elevated fire weather concerns continue across Southern Region due to gusty winds and low humidity.
- Winds will become breezier Sunday ahead of an approaching cold front, particularly in the Sierras.
- Light rain is possible across northern Coastal and Inland regions late Sunday and early Monday.

Monday-Wednesday

- Breezier north winds are expected to return Monday through Wednesday.
- An offshore wind event is possible for Tuesday/Wednesday across Southern CA, but confidence continues to be low and the situation will need to be monitored closely as confidence increases.
- Thunderstorms with a slight risk of localized flash flooding will be possible Monday through Wednesday across far southeastern portions of Southern region, near the CA/AZ state line. Confidence is low.
